

To run slowly

*I thought the time take away everything
Even if they are far away*

*I still see your star eyes
Your kisses imagined as honey, know even love.*

*You are the place I know in my heart Me know the straight road to get where there is still love
I know that there is a place inside of you That maybe, maybe, someday it says my name.*

*Maybe it had to be, so like this,
And I know i can t excuse myself from the time.*

*Don't you see
How much you have to walk Thousand of songs, yeah, cheering's our steps everyday
The struggle and the faith always by our side Telling you that sometimes Everything can fall.*

*To run slowly, and quietly, to your heart
Is your perfumed imaginable that gives me joy
You, you are the song I can never bore, yeah
You are, you are the song I've never bore.*

*And this blue skies, for you and for me,
after the rain, are you my love.
After the rain, are you my love.*
